

Study Trip to Georgia Southern University

United States of America

for

Students of Social and Political Sciences, Law and Related Fields

Program Description:

Georgia Southern University in the United States will host up to eight students from Albania in a two-week study visit in the last two weeks of February 2013. This educational exchange is intended to develop students' research and writing skills, with a particular focus on providing international perspectives on political and social science, public policy, international relations theory and law. Through this exchange, students will have the opportunity to develop trans-national relationships and build networks that may facilitate future educational and professional collaborations.

Eligibility Requirements for Participants:

- Must be advanced undergraduate (third year) or master's students in a qualified program.
- Must be currently enrolled in a relevant public or private faculty of higher education.
- Must have a cumulative grade point average of 8 or above for higher education studies.
- Must be proficient in reading, writing and speaking English.
- Must have a specific writing or research goal.

All expenses will be paid. For more information about the exchange, the application procedure and the required documentation please visit <http://www.loriamy.com/from-albania> (Applications must be received by 20 October; see application package on line). If you have any question or need support please contact Dr. Lori E. Amy, lamy@georgiasouthern.edu. or you may call Erion Fejzulla at 06973-11990.

For more information about Georgia Southern University, visit <http://www.georgiasouthern.edu>